POLICIES & PROCEDURES

Revised August 2022 Approved & Adopted September 2022

The Central Region of the American Advertising Federation, hereinafter referred to as the "Central Region" operates under the auspices and bylaws of the American Advertising Federation. The Central Region has the right and operational authority to set its own (or additional) policies and procedures as deemed necessary by way of proposed and approved amendments according to the policy within.

I. PURPOSE

As a component of the American Advertising Federation, the Central Region's purpose is to provide leadership on issues involving and affecting advertising, and, through the efforts of its Regional membership: To strive for the betterment of advertising and its service to the public. To cooperate with government officials at the federal, state and local levels, and to represent the industry's positions before legislative and administrative bodies. To promote and encourage fellowship, understanding and cooperation among the various disciplines of the advertising profession. To promote and encourage the maintenance of high ethical industry standards and to support self-regulatory programs. To promote the efforts, highlight the accomplishments, and to support the needs, concerns, and general operational struggles a member District and/or Club of the Central Region may have.

II. MEMBERSHIP

Membership in Central Region is reserved for the AAF Districts and their members within the Central Region (Districts 5, 6, 8, 9, 10). A District in good-standing is defined as a District that has paid in full their yearly Central Region dues by the Central region invoice due date provided. This is in addition to the AAF National dues. Paying AAF national dues and being a member in good-standing nationally, does not make an unpaid Central Region District a member in good-standing within the Region.

Only a District in good-standing who's member wishes to advance through AAF national leadership will get the support from the Central Region Executive Committee (CREC). The CREC will help promote and endorse any candidate for the AAF Council of Governors (COG) or other national leadership roles from the Central Region whose district is a member in good-standing. The CREC reserves the right to withhold their endorsement to a candidate they feel does not meet the goals and requirements of the Central Region or its paying active member districts.

III. MEMBERSHIP REINSTATEMENT

In the case that a District should fall out of good-standing as defined in Section II Membership, the following steps must be followed in order for reinstatement as a District member in good-standing within the Central Region

- 1. The District Governor would prepare and submit through email to the members of the CREC a written Appeal for Reinstatement
- 2. The District would at the same time as the appeal submission issue a "Reinstatement Fee" check payable to the AAF Central Region in the amount equal to 1/3 of the total yearly membership Central Region district dues. This is a non-refundable fee.
- 3. Upon receipt of the Appeal for Reinstatement to the CREC, it will promptly be distributed through email to all District Governors who are members in good-standing. A vote will be taken. Majority vote allows for reinstatement.
- 4. A reinstatement acceptance communication will be made to the petitioning District.
- 5. Upon full payment of that fiscal year's district dues by the petitioning District, that District will be reinstated as a member in good-standing.
